

SHORT CV KYRIOTI ELENI

Thematic Area: TA2 - DIRECTIONS

Key areas of Expertise in Digital Heritage: Inclusion via tech apps in Culture and Education, Creative and Cultural Sector projects

Eleni Kyrioti is an archaeologist and art historian. She worked in field archaeology and galleries in Greece. She is also a Certified Creative and Cultural Sector projects' Specialist in Cultural Heritage and Tourism. The Master Studies in Education of children with Special educational needs offered her the opportunity to observe how in museums and archaeological places these children can develop cognitive, social and creative skills. Her research interest also focus in Inclusion (how museums can be more inclusive for all children) via technology applications in Culture and Education. Previously, she worked at the project «Digitization and Configuration Services for the Internet "of the Act" Enrichment of Digital Collections of Mobile Monuments of the Ministry of Culture and Sport in Greece and Development of a New Information System of the National Monument Archives». Additional, she is teaching Ancient and Modern Greek plus Latin for many years and also collaborating with Educational Technology Companies as an educator – writer.

ViMM has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 Programme as Coordination and Support Action, under GA n° 727107